

A woman with curly hair is looking at clothes in a store. The background is slightly blurred, showing other people and clothing racks.

CUSTOMER BEHAVIOR · DATA REVIEW

Customer shopping behavior: where growth is hiding

—
A focused agenda across categories, loyalty, subscriptions, discounts, and reach.

THE SIGNAL IN THE DATA

3,900 purchases reveal a focused growth agenda

Three facts narrow the next move.

3,900

purchase records across 18 columns

Clothing

Leads both sales volume and revenue.

Subscription

Adoption remains lower than the loyal-customer base.

CATEGORY ECONOMICS

Clothing is the commercial engine

Sales and revenue by category · revenue in $K

1,737

Clothing sales

$104K in revenue, ahead of Accessories, Footwear, and Outerwear.

CUSTOMER BASE

The customer base is loyal, but not fully subscribed

Segment

1,053

subscribers

2,847

non-subscribers

Loyalty is a stronger base for conversion than acquisition alone.

SUBSCRIPTION

Subscription is an activation problem, not a value problem

Average spend

$59.49

Subscribers

Average spend

$59.87

Non-subscribers

Opportunity

Convert loyal and repeat buyers with benefits that feel immediate.

Test

Exclusive offers, convenience perks, and loyalty-linked subscription prompts.

PROMOTION PRESSURE

Discounts are widespread, with clear pressure points

839 discounted purchases still exceeded the overall average purchase value

Decision

Measure incremental lift by product before broadening promotions.

PRODUCT SIGNALS

Product signals point to a demand-plus-satisfaction playbook

Demand leaders

Jewelry leads Accessories, Blouse leads Clothing, Sandals lead Footwear, and Jacket leads Outerwear by orders.

Highest ratings

Gloves 3.86, Sandals 3.84, Boots 3.82.

Action

Give high-demand, well-rated products more visibility.

CUSTOMER VALUE

Young adults contribute the most revenue

Revenue by age group · revenue in $

Age group

$62,143

Young Adults

Highest revenue contribution, with the other groups relatively close together.

FROM ANALYSIS TO ACTION

Four moves turn the analysis into action

01

Convert loyalty

Target repeat and loyal buyers with subscription benefits.

02

Protect margin

Test discount lift on Hat, Sneakers, Coat, Sweater, and Pants.

03

Amplify winners

Feature high-demand and high-rated products in merchandising.

04

Personalize reach

Tailor campaigns by age group and category behavior.

NEXT QUARTER

Measure the next quarter by behavior, not activity

|                      |                                                      |
|----------------------|------------------------------------------------------|
| Subscription  | Conversion rate from loyal and repeat buyers         |
| Promotion     | Incremental revenue and margin by discounted product |
| Merchandising | Sales and rating lift for featured products          |
| Marketing     | Revenue per customer by age group and category       |

The report already provides the baseline; the next step is testing which interventions change behavior.